Upcoming Family Training Events

Early Literacy: Books, Braille and your Baby: The importance of reading to your child cannot be overstated. But what if your child is blind or visually impaired? Come learn some easy strategies to promote early literacy skills in your home and foster a love of reading for everyone.

Fine Motor and the Family:

In addition to early literacy skills, it is critical that our little learners with visual impairments come to school ready to press, turn, and pull a variety of equipment used to access a classroom. Join us as we discover how to develop finger strength and dexterity through fun household routines.

Sensory Play with Toys and Tots:

Enhancing sensory efficiency skills, even remaining vision, is vital to our infants and toddlers with visual impairments. It allows them to connect and engage with the world around them. Join us as we learn how to promote all the senses through play.

Orientation and Mobility for Tiny Travelers:

Join us as we introduce basic information about orientation and mobility in our early intervention population. Parents and caregivers will learn how to use this information to incorporate some basic skills into play with their child. These skills may help prepare your child for more formal orientation and mobility training in the future.
